

The Problem and Meaning of Suffering: Perspectives from the World's Religions

Saturday, March 10, 9:00am-12:30pm

All human beings at some point in their lives must come to grips with the problem and meaning of suffering.

Thankfully, we are not left on our own in this search for meaning. The great religions of the world (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, and others) have developed a variety of ways to approach this dilemma. In this half-day program, we will consider the various religious responses to the problem of suffering, and take time to reflect on and apply these responses to our own life experiences.

 $25 Early Registration through March 2.
(After 3/2, registration is $30.)

About the facilitator...

Matt Pozen is Director of Parish Faith Formation at Visitation Parish in Elmhurst, Illinois. He is also a regular presenter for the Biblical Institute of the Diocese of Joliet. He graduated in 2001 from the University of St. Mary of the Lake in Mundelein, Illinois, and was ordained in priestly ministry in 2005. Matt's focus on adult faith formation integrates prayer, scripture, song, presentation and small group discussion. His interest in the development of the early church from Jesus, Paul and the New Testament serves as a vision to help shape the way we live together as disciples of Jesus and our mission in the world.
